

The Agreement on the International Dolphin Conservation Program (AIDCP)

Objective: To progressively reduce incidental mortality of dolphins in the tuna purse-seine fishery in the eastern Pacific Ocean, and to ensure the sustainability of marine resources related to the fishery taking into account the interrelationships among species in the ecosystem.

The Fishery in the eastern Pacific Ocean

In the eastern Pacific, yellowfin tuna are mainly taken by purse-seining schools associated with dolphins.

